

Shop Details

We are a lovely, bright, boutique style Sue Ryder shop in the heart of Henley town centre. We have high-end clothing brands at excellent prices, and great bargains for all the family.

We are just round the corner from the Henley-on-Thames train station and there is a local pay-and-display car park behind the shop.

Your donations are always very welcome and can be made through the front door during opening hours. We also have a donation station at the back for larger items. Thanks for your support.

If you have a few hours a week why not get involved as a volunteer? We'd love to hear from you - just pop in for a chat.

Nettlebed Hospice

We provide incredible palliative care for people with life-limiting conditions, helping people live as well as possible with the effects of their condition by offering symptom management and support from a team of healthcare professionals. Nettlebed Hospice has an inpatient unit with 12 beds, located either in single rooms or single-sex rooms of two or three beds. These are all on the first floor and look out onto our wonderful grounds. We provide a 7-day community nursing service as well as day hospice services through which we are able to support patients and their families at home.

We need your help

It costs over £3 million per year to run our services, and over 70% of the money we need comes from voluntary donations. This means that we are almost entirely dependent on people like you in order to continue providing incredible care in the local community. There are lots of ways you can help us, from taking part in our events and challenges, supporting our shops and sales, to setting up a monthly direct debit or leaving us a donation in your will. We need your help today, so that we can continue our work in the future - without you we simply wouldn't exist. If you would like to find out how to support Nettlebed Hospice, have a look through this page for upcoming events or get in touch for a chat about how you can help – whether through fundraising or volunteering. Our team is here to help you help us, so please get in touch now and let's make a difference.
